Art Unit: 1711

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipate by Morris, Sahara or Matsumoto.

Morris discloses blends of polyurethane and ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer in the amount of the claims (see claim 2).

Sahara discloses blends of polyurethane and ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer (see example 4).

Matsumoto discloses blends of 40 wt. % polyurethane and ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer (see example 11-3).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zabrocki.

5. Zabrocki discloses in examples 4, 6, 9, 12 and 14 blends of polyethylene, polyurethane and ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer. These examples differ from the claims by using polyethylene versus polypropylene.

Art Unit: 1711

6. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use polypropylene because Zabrocki teaches polypropylene as equivalent to polyethylene in the blend (col. 3, lines 51-52).

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Patel reference has been cited for showing blends of polyurethane, polypropylene and ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer (see claim 2).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Rachel F. Gorr whose telephone number is 571-272-1072. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon., Tues., Thurs., Fri., from 7:00 AM to 5:30 PM.
